

General

Webzilla is the brand name under which various independent Webzilla companies operate.

Each of those companies is a separate and distinct corporate entity that provides services in a particular geographic area.

To do business with a Webzilla company, you must enter into a contract with the relevant Webzilla entity. Each Webzilla company has its own contract documentation for services and products. For all companies, the contract documentation generally consists of the Internet Services Masters Agreement, General Conditions, Policies, the Services Specification and the Support and Service Level Schedule. Please find below the latest version of our Legal agreements.

General Terms & Conditions

The General Terms & Conditions shall apply to all quotes and orders related to the provision of services and/or products by a Webzilla company, to the provision of services by Webzilla, to the provision of products by Webzilla, and to any agreements or other legal relationships between Webzilla and any Customer resulting therefrom or in connection therewith. You can read the General Conditions here:
